

WHAT IS CLAIMED, IS:

claims in the listing will replace all prior claims in the application.

1. The method of playing the field, and board game of HEATBALL, design of multiple court, and design of multiple baskets, each of multiple courts having at least one or more scoring baskets, some may include backboard combination. each of multiple court having jump ramps used for special shot, and ramps to surround playing field. teams meet game objectives by proceeding to play game according to the provided game rules, said rules providing the order of proceeding through the multiple courts comprising the steps of:

a. providing one player from one team has won the initial race and gained ball possession .

2. The method of playing the field, and board game HEATBALL of claim 1. wherein the number of points awarded for shooting said ball through basket depend upon position of player, and circles found upon the playing field.

3. The method of claim 1. wherein players obtaining possession of the ball must cross a neutral zone (6) area of the court with the ball to perform the operation of heating up the ball symbolically, in order for the scoring shot to be valid.

4. The method of claim 1. wherein players will follow certain formations to commence game, other plays during game. And special shots.

5 The method of claim 1. wherein the ball used during the game has a symbolic status of hot and cold

6. The method of claim 1. a basket-like goal having a single basket on top (fig2) of pole. and a basket like goal (fig4) having five rings four rings in the horizontal position and one ring in the vertical position poles supporting such baskets are attached by bolts to ground.

7 The method of claim 1 rules pertaining to referees, and field judges involve in the game.

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Heatball is a new team sport which presents a new playing field design, with elevated baskets (fig 2&4) design which are use by players to score points during a game by placing a ball through the baskets. players may wear rollerblades while playing, may play on wheelchairs, or on foot. Heatball calls for players to symbolically heat up the ball, by crossing an area of the heatball court with the ball. This area is called a neutral zone (6). Heatball presents new challenges to participants such as the challenge of skating while dribbling a ball, throwing, and aiming a ball while skating. New challenges which involve players jumping on ramps while throwing the ball, and spinning in the air are a part of the game of heatball. This game requires stamina quickness, and fast reaction on the part of the players. As a novelty Heatball will present features such as three teams participation at the same time. Heatball is an acrobatic, and physical game.